Movie based on Burke book premiers

'I like to be part of anything about Louisiana that can be done in Louisiana.'

John Goodman

After watching more than an hour and a half of picturesque New Iberia, one that offered accents and real actors from this area like it is 'done in a great way,' he said.

Local residents: 'Mist' shows area like it is

John Goodman, who arrived Wednesday night in New Iberia to attend the screening of the movie based on Burke book premiers, said he thought it was a great movie.

Debra Doerle, general manager of the Grand Theatre in Bayou Community College, said the movie was based on a best-selling novel, but the theatre’s management agreed with Goodman’s assessment.

The movie, parts of which were filmed in New Iberia, is a dramatic story about the author’s experiences in the area. It stars John Goodman, who played Detective Sergeant Havelock in the movie, and Adelle Basille, who played Julie Havelock in the film.

MARK BARRIONTE, THE DAILY IBERNIAN

The movie was shown in New Iberia on Wednesday night, and it was attended by local residents, including John Goodman and Adelle Basille.

The movie, which was based on a book, was directed by Michael Mann and produced by Warner Bros. Pictures.

The movie was shown to a packed crowd in the Grand Theatre.

Star power grips New Iberia

John Goodman, left, is welcomed by Deputy Mayor of New Iberia

SOUTH CONWAY, Ky. - John Goodman, left, is welcomed by Deputy Mayor of New Iberia, Mary Jeanerette, right, as he arrives for the world premiere of his new movie "The Electric Mist" in New Iberia.

The movie was the first to be shown in a small community in the United States, and it was attended by a large crowd of locals.

MARK BARRIONTE, THE DAILY IBERNIAN

John Goodman, who played Detective Sergeant Havelock in the movie, was the guest of honor at the opening night of the movie in New Iberia.

Star power grips New Iberia

John Goodman, left, is welcomed by Deputy Mayor of New Iberia

SOUTH CONWAY, Ky. - John Goodman, left, is welcomed by Deputy Mayor of New Iberia, Mary Jeanerette, right, as he arrives for the world premiere of his new movie "The Electric Mist" in New Iberia.

The movie was the first to be shown in a small community in the United States, and it was attended by a large crowd of locals.

MARK BARRIONTE, THE DAILY IBERNIAN

John Goodman, who played Detective Sergeant Havelock in the movie, was the guest of honor at the opening night of the movie in New Iberia.